The Founder - CEO

Jerod Kunze

JEROD KUNZE
(Founder and CEO - NexgenAI)

In 2025, a young visionary noticed a major gap in how people invest. Traditional investment methods were slow, complex, and often inaccessible to everyday investors. While technology was transforming every industry, the world of investing still lacked true intelligence – until now.

Driven by a belief that AI could democratize wealth creation, the founder set out to build a platform that merges data-driven intelligence, automation, and human insight – giving every investor, from beginner to expert, the power to make smarter financial decisions effortlessly.

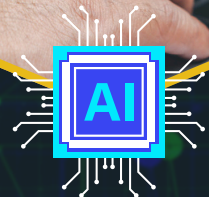

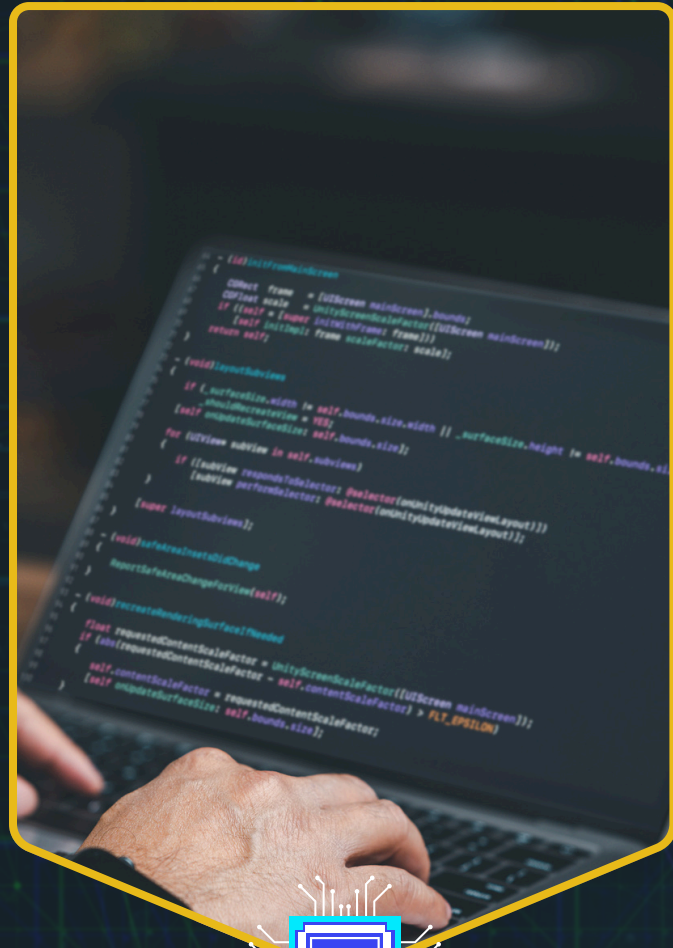

What began as a small idea soon evolved into a mission:

“To make investing intelligent, inclusive, and innovative.”

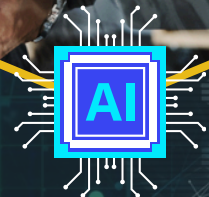

06/10/2025 that vision fuels a growing movement – a new era of AI-powered investing, where technology doesn't replace human potential but amplifies it. And after a long research and development, NexGen AI was founded on 6th October 2025.
